

Employee HR Policy Handbook

Company: ExampleTech Inc.

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

1. Working Hours

Employees normally work Monday through Friday.

Standard working hours are 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM, with a one-hour unpaid lunch break.

Employees are expected to be available during their scheduled working hours.

If an employee expects to be late or absent, they should notify their manager as soon as possible.

2. Vacation Policy

Full-time employees receive 15 paid vacation days per calendar year.

Vacation requests should be submitted to the employee's manager at least two weeks in advance, whenever possible.

Employees may carry over a maximum of 5 unused vacation days into the following calendar year.

Unused vacation days above the 5-day carryover limit will expire at the end of the year.

3. Sick Leave

Full-time employees receive 10 paid sick days per year.

Employees who are unable to work because of illness should notify their manager before the beginning of their scheduled workday.

For absences lasting more than 3 consecutive working days, the company may request appropriate documentation.

Unused sick days do not carry over to the following year.

4. Remote Work Policy

Eligible employees may work remotely up to 3 days per week.

Employees must obtain approval from their manager before working remotely.

Employees working remotely are expected to remain available during normal working hours.

Remote employees must maintain a professional and secure work environment.

5. Parental Leave

Eligible employees may receive up to 12 weeks of parental leave following the birth or adoption of a child.

Employees should notify Human Resources as early as possible when planning parental leave.

The employee's manager and Human Resources will coordinate the leave schedule.

6. Employee Benefits

Full-time employees are eligible for the company's health insurance and retirement benefits.

Benefits become effective after 30 days of employment, subject to the terms of the applicable benefit plans.

Employees should contact Human Resources with questions about enrollment or eligibility.

7. Workplace Conduct

Employees are expected to treat coworkers, customers, and business partners with professionalism and respect.

Harassment, discrimination, threats, and abusive behavior are not permitted in the workplace.

Employees who have concerns about workplace conduct should contact Human Resources.

8. Policy Questions

Employees who have questions about this handbook should contact the Human Resources department.

This handbook provides general company guidelines. Specific benefits and employment terms may be subject to applicable laws and individual employment agreements.
